

Ecosystem Assessment Mentoring Scheme

Adapting the JSSA for
Sustainable and Green
Town Development of
Mulanay, Bondoc
Peninsula, Quezon,
Philippines

Mentor:

Koji Nakamura, PhD
Specially Appointed Professor
Kanazawa University, Japan

Mentee:

Maria Rowena Beatriz Q. Inzon, MSc
University Research Associate
University of the Philippines Los Banos

Learning objectives:

1. To learn firsthand the Japanese experiences on the Satoyama-Satoumi Assessment
2. To develop basic knowledge on the design of the JSSA
3. To identify particular tool/s and methodology/s from the JSSA applicable to the landscape systems in Mulanay
4. To gain enough knowledge and skills to design a SS Assessment tailored-fit for Mulanay

Long term goal

- To partner with the Local Government Unit of Mulanay, NGOs, other educational institutions and various stakeholders to jointly undertake the ecosystems assessment
- The assessment shall provide scientific basis to a participatory sustainable area development plan for Mulanay.

The top half of the slide features an abstract background consisting of numerous thin, vertical lines in various shades of blue and grey, creating a textured, rain-like effect. A solid dark blue horizontal band spans the width of the slide, serving as a background for the text.

Benefits of the Mentoring Scheme:

- The mentoring scheme facilitated the sharing and transfer of knowledge, experiences and expertise of the JSSA on understanding ecosystem services and their effects on and contributions to human and economic development.
- Visits to SS project sites and discussions with several JSSA practitioners put into proper context the uniqueness of the approach compared with other traditional ecosystem analysis.
- Mulanay has untapped resources and has a vision of Green Development where the JSSA experiences and good practices could be applied.
- Possibility of LGU-UPLB-Kanazawa University partnership on the ecosystems assessment
